PROCLAMATION OF PRESIDENT WILSON
FIXING A DAY OF PRAYER FOR PEACE
BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA— A PROCLAMATION.
Whereas, great nations of the world have taken up arms against one another and war now draws millions of men into battle whom the counsel of statesmen has not been able to save from the terrible sacrifice;
And whereas, in this as in all things, it is our privilege and duty to seek counsel and succor of Almighty God, humbling ourselves before Him, confessing our weakness and our lack of any wisdom equal to these things;
And whereas, it is the especial wish and longing of the people of the United States, in prayer and counsel and all friendly means, to serve the cause of peace;
Therefore, I, Woodrow Wilson, President of the United States of America, do designate Sunday, the fourth day of October next, a day of prayer, supplication, and do request all God-fearing persons to repair on that day to their places of worship, there to unite their petitions to Almighty God, that, overruling the counsel of men, setting straight the things they cannot govern or alter, taking pity on the nations now in the throes of conflict, in His mercy and goodness showing a way where men can see none, that its converse His children healing peace again and restore once more to the concord among men and nations without which there can be neither happiness, nor true friendship, nor any wholesome fruit of toil or thought in the world; praying also to this end that He forgive us our sins, our ignorance of His holy will, our wilfulness and many errors, and lead us in the paths of obedience to places of vision and to thoughts and counsels that purge and make wise.
In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.
Done at the City of Washington this eighth day of September, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and fourteen and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and thirty-ninth.
WOODROW WILSON.
By the President: WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN, Secretary of State.

THE CAUSE OF WAR.
To understand this war you may forget all about Hohenzollern and Hapsburg, Slav and Teuton, Serbian and Archduke Francis Ferdinand. A monarch applied the match, but the instigation of monarchy had very little to do with it. Republican France contributed as much to the conflagration as monarchial Austria, and democratic England almost as much as autocratic Russia.
There was a situation in Europe which could issue only in war or disarmament and efforts in the latter direction were unavailing. Military competition between the great powers had been steadily increasing for ten years until the tension had become almost unbearable. Then came a supreme effort. Germany raised her extraordinary war contribution of a quarter of a billion dollars by drastic special taxes on top of the heavy ordinary taxation. France lengthened the term of active military service from two years to three. Russia adopted a scheme of largely augmented military expenditure. England lifted her naval appropriations to an unprecedented figure.
A man can't stand on tiptoe indefinitely. Military competition could scarcely be pushed further. There must be a let-down or a fight.
The proximate cause—Austria's irritation against Serbia—was trivial enough. But the real cause was national jealousy, suspicion and hatred—carefully nursed and exploited everywhere by the military class and the noisy few who find a profit in war. The grand stock in trade by these promoters of war is that barbarous patriotism which is merely a modern extension of the tribal sentiment that made the Indian who lived on the south side of the creek consider it a pious duty to kill one living on the north side whenever he got a chance. Whatever the cost of this war, there will be another some day if Frenchmen are still taught to hate Germans, Germans to hate Russians, and so on.—Saturday Evening Post.

THE COLONEL'S PLANK MOVE.
It would seem that the Colonel is adopting some of the strategic moves of the Germans. While the Germans are working around south of Paris, the Colonel plans a flank move on New Orleans, far south of New York. The European war has stuffed millions of dollars into the pockets of the Louisiana sugar interests. Every family in the country is paying its share of this tribute. In many places in the country the retail price of sugar has already advanced to ten cents a pound. Yet a number of Democratic sugar planters in Louisiana are sorely afflicted because their party has taken the tariff off their product. They demand social justice, but they cannot unite with the Republicans, many of whom are colored, without recognizing their black fellow citizens as equals, and so, remembering how the Colonel has sacrificed the negro whenever it suited his purpose they have become Bull Moose.
Mr. Roosevelt went to Louisiana and wept hot, scalding tears of compassion over these planters, whom he mournfully pictured as victims of Democratic tariff revision. In this case, as in that of the creek, Colonel Roosevelt has no difficulty in distinguishing the good from the bad. There is no more gluttonous special interests in America than the sugar-grafters of Louisiana, but they are to be recognized as good grafters hereafter because they promise to support the Progressive ticket. The sweet communion which took place between them and the leader of the forces of righteousness this week is highly interesting in many ways, but especially on its moral side. Somebody on the spot may be able to determine the matter, but at this distance we cannot say which is the more dishonest, the sugar men or the standing candidate.—Wisconsin State Journal.

ROAD CONGRESS HELD NEXT MONTH
Every phase of road building will be discussed at the Northwestern Road Congress to be held in Milwaukee, October 28, 29, 30, 31. The concrete, brick, bituminous and macadam types of construction will be elaborately treated by experts of the United States government and the states participating. During the four days the Congress is in session more than thirty papers will be read by such authorities as J. A. Hazenwood, State Highway Commissioner of Wisconsin; A. R. Hirst, Wisconsin, State Engineer; Thomas H. McDonald, State Highway Engineer of Iowa and others equally as high in the roster of authorities on road building. The subjects will treat of the road improvement questions so thoroughly the reading of each paper will be so broad that the greatest benefit will be derived by the army of county, village and town board delegates, which will comprise the majority of the road building delegates.
It is believed by the executive committee of the Congress that the exposition of road of road building machinery, equipment, implements and materials, to be conducted by the leading manufacturers of the middle west in connection with the Congress will outclass any such exposition to be held during the present year. This exposition will have a display everything from a pickaxe to the large engine of steam shovel and from a one-horse-power gasoline motor to a hundred-horse-power traction engine and the twenty-ton road roller.
State exhibits will be made by the highway commissions of Iowa, Wisconsin and Minnesota. The Wisconsin exhibit will be made by Milwaukee showing its 100 miles of concrete roads. The United States government highway department will also make an exhibit.
Governors Edward F. Duane, of Illinois; W. N. Parris, Michigan; G. W. Clarke, Iowa; E. P. Eberhart, Minnesota; L. B. Harris, North Dakota; Frank S. Byrnes, South Dakota and P. E. McQuinn, Wisconsin will attend the opening session of the Congress. Governor McQuinn will deliver the welcoming address in behalf of the state of Wisconsin and Hon. T. R. Ames, late, president of the Congress will respond.

PLEASANT HILL.
(Too late for last week.)
Our vicinity was shocked Wednesday by the news of the death of Mrs. Helman Herbybury Sr. who died in the Marshfield hospital.
She was taken ill three weeks ago for an operation and was getting along nicely until Wednesday morning her husband received word she was getting worse. Mr. Whittingham of Arpin he and his sons August and Herman Jr. to her bedside but she had passed away.
She was 64 years of age and was one of the oldest settlers in our vicinity. She leaves besides her husband five sons and one daughter. The funeral services were conducted by the German Lutheran pastor at South Arpin Interment being in the church cemetery. They have the heartfelt sympathy of all in this vicinity in their hour of sorrow.
Jim Robinson is working for H. Whitcomb.
A large crowd attended the social at the church Friday evening. All report a good time.
Fred Johnson left Thursday for Wheaton, Ill., where he will enter the Wheaton college.
Gus Kreib received a bad cut on his head and was rendered unconscious for several hours Tuesday by the staging for his silo giving way and one of the long poles striking him on the head. Several stitches were required to close the wound.
Miss Anna Simonsen commenced her school in joint district No. 1 in the town of Hansen on Monday.
Burgess and son are filling silos in our vicinity. They have a large cutter and a 30 horse power gas tractor. They are giving good satisfaction.
Mr. and Mrs. Poland of Waupaca county motored up to our burg and spent several days visiting relatives including Mr. Brooks and family.
Frank Hamschild has sold the Aker place which he purchased two years ago.
Walter Erdman is working for Mr. Moore near Vedum.
Will Erdman has the foundation for his new house about complete.
Will Gobbie had the misfortune to have a valuable horse cut in a corn cutter and there is little hope of its recovery.
Mrs. Dawson is entertaining her sister and daughter from Shellburg.
Miss Hamell has started her year's work as teacher at the Pleasant Hill school.
John Kreib erected a silo last week.
Miss Mary Johnson has finished her tile silo and has the roof on it. Mr. L. Hamschild did the carpenter work.
Miss Nina Johnson returned home after a month's visit with her sister in Rockford Ill.
Martin Kellerman has started work on his basement barn.
Alfred Alms had a fine porch put on his house last week.
Miss Millie Griffe is assisting Mrs. Geo. Alms with her work.
Mrs. J. Robinson will have an auction Wednesday, September 23. About 35 attended the Sunday School picnic near Arpin last Monday and also carried off some of the prizes as Miss Mary Stroppe won first in the girls race and Mrs. Miranda Bennett secured a prize for being the oldest lady on the grounds. She was over 80 years of age.
Rev. Thos Hoffman and wife and daughter Beatrice of Shiocton attended the picnic at Arpin Monday. They returned to Shiocton Wednesday.
Rev. S. Bullough and wife of Pittsville spent the first of the week with Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Likes.
John Gachmayr erected a stove silo last week. Thos. Simonsen also erected one.
Herman Seibenhan has his large barn completed. The barn is 50x60 with basement and 14 ft. posts. Two gentlemen from Grand Rapids finished the roofing on Friday.
William Dillman erected a fine stove silo last week. It was purchased of McCoy & Co. of Pittsville.

WHAT'S THE MATTER WHO'S DEAD
NOBODY'S DEAD, BUT I WANT ANOTHER CHEW OF THAT REAL TOBACCO

GET the taste of the richest tobacco grown. "Right-Cut" is the Real Tobacco Chew that you hear men boosting to their friends.
Sappy, full-bodied tobacco—seasoned and sweetened just enough.
You'll be glad, too, that you've found "Right-Cut"—and to pass the word along to men that you know.
Take a very small chew—less than one-quarter the old size. It will be more satisfying than a mouthful of ordinary tobacco. Just nibble on it until you find the strength chew that suits you. Tuck it away. Then let it rest. See how easily and evenly the real tobacco taste comes. How it satisfies without grinding, how much less you have to spit, how few chews you take to be tobacco satisfied. That's why it is the Real Tobacco Chew. That's why it costs less in the end.
It is a ready chew, cut fine and sharp so that you won't have to grind it out with your teeth. Grinding ordinary tobacco is a waste of time and money.
One small chew takes the place of two big chews of the old kind.

Concerning Dr. Goddard

DR. GODDARD.
The above is a picture of Wisconsin's leading Specialist, who treats Chronic Diseases, without resorting to surgery or the knife.

For many years past, in certain troubles such as kidney, bladder, prostate, gonorrhea, etc., and many diseases peculiar to women, it was thought necessary to resort to surgery.

But in the past few years such brilliant men in the profession as Dr. Stetson of Paris, the leading physician of the world today, Dr. Ewen, Professor of Medicine at the University of Edinburgh, Scotland, Sir Henry Burdett of England, and Dr. Page of Boston, Mass., not to mention many others of great prominence, have become firmly convinced and have proved that many of these cases can be more successfully, better and more safely cured by modern treatment than by the knife.

And it is along these same advanced lines that Dr. Goddard has had his remarkable success in treating Chronic Diseases without operation.

The Doctor comes to Grand Rapids once every four weeks, and freely grants consultation to all who may call on him at the Dixon Hotel.

He comes to us highly recommended, and has had many of our people as his patients, whom he has cured after they had tried many other physicians without relief. In talking with the writer recently the Doctor said:

"The tendency among the medical profession in the past has been to put the knife into everybody on the slightest pretext, but with the great advancements that have been made in the Science of Medicine in the last few years, many of the broad minded surgeons have seen the errors of their ways with the result, that they are not resorting to surgical operations in one quarter the cases that they formerly did. I can truthfully say, and can prove it, that 80 per cent, of the so-called cases of Chronic Appendicitis that have been submitted to operation in the past could have been cured much better by our modern methods of treatment, thus saving the patient all the suffering and danger, not to mention the expense that accompanies surgical operations. I have proven the truth of this statement, right here in your community, and should like to show your scores of letters, from grateful patients whom I cured to prove it to you also."

The Doctor has lately written a little book that is intensely interesting, entitled, "Modern Methods of Treating Chronic Diseases, Without Surgical Operation," which he will gladly send to anyone. Absolutely free of charge on request.

Anyone suffering from any Chronic conditions, especially if it has failed to respond to the ordinary treatment should certainly avail themselves of the opportunity to consult Dr. Goddard on his next visit to Grand Rapids, Tuesday, Sept. 9th, at the Dixon Hotel, or write to him at his permanent address, 124 Wisconsin St., Milwaukee, Wis. Send for his little book anyway. It will greatly interest you.

Adv.

Dr. Goddard will be at the Bldgett Hotel, Marshfield, Wednesday, Sept. 30th, 9 a. m. to 7:30 p. m.

EDUCATION TALKS TO PARENTS.
Learning Through Play.
By Peter W. Dykema, Lecturer on Festivals, University of Wisconsin.
"Oh what can we do today? We are tired of lessons, our play-things are broken, we have read all of our story books two or three times, there is nothing to go and see, and we don't know what to do!"
Have you ever heard anything like that—mothers, fathers and teachers? Have you, in the home, in the school, on the play-ground, at a picnic, or in the many other places where children are, been at a loss for an answer?
It is for such occasions and for many others when children are to be taught so that they will be radically happy and deeply interested, that the dramatic method of teaching, lately acclaimed as an old method newly introduced is intended.
Consider a typical example. Have you ever in school heard anything like this?
"Johnny, bound Alaska for us."
"Mary, what bodies of water would you pass through before reaching Alaska if you were to start from New York?"
"Peter, tell us something about the Eskimos, the kind of food they eat, their manner of dress, etc."
Did this sort of thing make Alaska an interesting, not to say a helpful, subject, or was it rather a very remote and rather unpleasant memory to you? Now supposing the teacher had said: "This morning the whole class is going to help Johnny and Peter get ready for a trip to Alaska. They are going to be explorers and must have food, clothing, and a complete outfit for this long journey. Now what will they need?"
Then the class offered suggestions. They told what kind of provisions and clothing to take, how to pack them in the smallest space, and (if the teacher wanted to get in her arithmetic lesson in this connection) they made an estimate as to the amount and kind of provisions, the distance of the journey, etc. When everything had been made ready, Peter and Johnny embarked in their imaginary craft, or, if the fun was to reach its height, a soap box was made to do duty for the good ship. As they proceeded from New York, they told what things they were seeing on their route, how they passed through the Panama Canal, what kind of fish and birds they saw, how as they gradually went north the climate changed, etc. Arrived in Alaska, they made use of all their reading and general knowledge to describe in a vivid way the people, their method of living, points of interest, exciting adventures, and the like.
Think what a fascinating experience this would be for a child of eight or ten! It would mean that Alaska had become something tangible, something real, a place of great interest which the child would be anxious to read and know something about. Apply this idea in a little different manner to reading classes in the school, dramatic incidents in history, in civics, even in mathematics, and many other subjects and it is not hard to see that many topics which have heretofore had little interest for the children would become alive with possibilities.
This idea can be applied, not only in the school room, but in the home. Summer hours can be made periods of intense enjoyment to the children of intense play journeys—not only to Alaska, but to towns in our own land for which mother or father can supply first hand information, to coal mines, cotton fields, great factories, historic regions, etc. Every magazine article, every story, contains a play and hence a possibility for enjoyment and instruction if children are given a little skillful and sympathetic help.

South American Progress.

The enormous growth of the South American republics in recent years is so little understood that it may be worth while to recall the recent statistics of the city of Buenos Aires now has a population of 1,700,000, which makes it the third largest city in the two Americas, the other two being New York and Chicago. Philadelphia, which stands next to Chicago in the United States, has now been passed by the South American city. Buenos Aires has very nearly multiplied its population by ten since its first census was taken 45 years ago. It is also to be noted that that city stands next to New York in the tonnage and value of foreign commerce.—Hartford Times.

STATE POLITICIANS
DRAFT PLATFORMS

WISCONSIN DEMOCRATS AND REPUBLICANS HOLD CONVENTIONS AT MADISON

READY FOR ELECTION RACE

Spirited Contests Develop for Choice of Meetings and Result in Compromises—Republican Platform Indorses McGovern.

Madison.—Both the democratic and republican conventions that convened here on Sept. 15 were marked by spirited factional contests for control and election of the party platforms. The democratic meeting finished its work in one day, but it required two days for the republicans to come to a final agreement and draft a platform.

The republican platform convention after a two days' session adopted a platform which indorses the record of Gov. F. E. McGovern, and which indorses the nomination of Emanuel L. Philipp, republican candidate for governor.

Although there were many clashes and Mr. Philipp submitted a statement following the report of the resolutions committee in which he announced that he still stood for the defeat of the constitutional amendments, for the re-establishment of party conventions and favoring the passage of a home rule bill, no serious controversy prevailed through the closing moments.

Alvin P. Kletzsch, Milwaukee, presentable to all three factions—McGovern, Philipp and La Follette—was elected chairman of the state central committee. His election was by a large vote, 53 to 21 for former Chairman George Scott. His selection, following the platform indorsement by Mr. Philipp, was a further step toward harmony with the result that there was little independent ticket talk at the close of the session. Cameron W. Fraser, Menomonee Falls, manager of Mr. Philipp's primary campaign, was elected secretary of the state central committee.

The state central committee chosen is as follows:

Alvin P. Kletzsch, Milwaukee, chairman.
Cameron W. Fraser, Menomonee Falls, secretary.
First district—Charles J. Sumner, Delavan; George B. Harris, Waukesha.
Second district—William Kohl, Mayville; S. B. Andrews, Portage.
Third district—M. J. Cleary, Blanchardville; Dr. Frank Smith, Madison.
Fourth district—Richard Gums, Milwaukee; George Meredith, Milwaukee.
Fifth district—George A. West, E. B. Gonnrich, Milwaukee.

Sixth district—Charles Heitzel, Oshkosh; E. M. Lyons, Port Washington.
Seventh district—George H. Gordon, La Crosse; George Cooper, Black River Falls.
Eighth district—George E. Nelson, Stevens Point; E. A. Killen, Wautoma.
Ninth district—L. T. Crabtree, Cranford; J. R. Haney.
Tenth district—Ole G. Kinney, Colfax; Percy A. Roberts.

Eleventh district—W. W. Sanborn, Ashland; George O'Connor, Eagle River.

The platform approves the work of Wisconsin's representatives in both houses of congress and commends the present state administration. Upon national issues the platform reaffirms the belief in a protective tariff limited to the difference in the cost of production here and abroad. To accomplish these results the platform favors the establishment of a scientific nonpartisan tariff commission.

On the state regulation of business the resolution says:

"If regulation has operated to reduce the extraordinary profits which were obtained before the days of public control, it also has operated to reduce the ability to investors. It has given stability to all public service enterprises."

On the subject of state commissions the platform reads:

"We believe in constitutional government and in concentrating responsibility for government in the hands of constitutional officers of the state who are elected by the people and are directly responsible to the people. We promise the abolition of all commissions that can be dispensed with, retaining only such as experience has proven are essential to the welfare of the people."

Hold Peace Prayer Day.
Baraboo.—A proclamation has been issued by H. L. Halsted, grand chancellor of the Knights of Pythias, Baraboo, that Sunday, Oct. 4, has been designated as a day of prayer for peace.

May Lose Both Eyes.
Washington.—Alex Matson may lose the sight of both of his eyes as the result of a premature explosion of dynamite being used for blasting stumps on a farm in the Four Mile Creek district, west of this city.

Interferes and Is Slashed.
Neenah.—Thomas Coyne was badly beaten up and slashed with knives by five Italian laborers when he attempted to help several women the Italians had accosted and were insulting.

Reynolds Wins In Ninth.
Madison.—Official returns for the Ninth congressional district show that John W. Reynolds won the Republican nomination with a vote of 4,519 against 3,902 for D. G. Classon and 2,628 for Charles E. Raught.

Fire Causes Large Loss.
Waukesha.—A large barn, wagon shed and silo on the E. G. Muckelton farm, two miles west of this city, were destroyed by fire with a loss estimated at $4,500.

Losers Hand In Cutters.
Elm Grove.—While feeding an ensilage cutter on the farm of W. C. Schroeder, Conrad Gebhardt, Jr., aged 18 years, son of a well known farmer, had his right hand caught by a knife and cut off at the wrist.

Install Punch Clocks.
Neenah.—Action taken here by the police and fire commission will result in the installing of time checking system for police officers doing night duty.

President Wilson Indorsed. The platform adopted was one largely drafted by Judge Karel and contains his views on the issues involved in the pending campaign.

The aid of Wisconsin Democrats to re-elect President Wilson was pledged in the resolutions, and the present national administration was warmly indorsed.

Other principal points in the platform are as follows:

No levy of state taxes, deriving necessary income for state government from corporation, inheritance and income taxes and license fees.

Abolish offices of state game warden, state treasury agent, state oil inspector, tuberculosis commission, board of pharmacy, sanatorium committee, hotel inspectors, claims attorney and all other special legal advisors and place their duties under state, county and municipal officers.

Accident insurance to be provided by the state. Remove the state university from domain of politics.

Amend primary law so as to have party conventions to frame platforms and perfect party organization.

Retrenchment in administration of cooperation laws. Municipal home rule. Rapid building of good roads.

Loaning of surplus funds to farmers at low interest on real estate security. Strict economy in state appropriations.

Limit sessions of legislature to ninety days, all bills to be introduced in first thirty days and all appropriations for state institutions by separate enactment.

Repeal of "Mary Ann" law. Repeal of eugenic marriage law. Enforcement of workmen's compensation law and enactment of any additional legislation needed along this line.

Arraignment of present republican state administration for alleged extravagance, asking why taxes have leaped from $4,000,000 to $16,000,000 in ten years "without any visible advantage to the state."

Indorsement of the waterpower law. Commendation of the corrupt practices act.
